

DDS4Chl: A dataset of drought indices of demand and water supply for continental Chile

Francisco Zambrano and Iongel Duran

ABSTRACT

Central Chile has been affected by a persistent drought which is impacting the hydrological system and vegetation development. The region has been the focus of research studies due to a persistent period of water scarcity which has been defined as a “mega drought.

Index Terms— One, two, three, four, five

I. INTRODUCTION

II. METHODS

III. RESULTS

IV. CONCLUSION

The quarto-ieee template is freely available under the MIT license on github: <https://github.com/dfolio/quarto-ieee>.

Francisco Zambrano is with Hemera Centro de Observación de la Tierra, Facultad de Ciencias, Universidad Mayor, Santiago, 8580745 Chile

Iongel Duran is with Hemera Centro de Observación de la Tierra, Facultad de Ciencias, Universidad Mayor, Santiago, 8580745 Chile